

THE PACIFIC

Sociologists

SEPT 2010: VOLUME 18, NUMBER 3
the Pacific Sociological Association

Dear PSA Members & Colleagues:

Please join us for the 82nd annual meeting of the PSA, March 10-13, 2011. The conference site is the Sheraton Seattle Hotel situated in the vibrant core of the Emerald City, Seattle, Washington which is also a gateway to the diverse sights and sounds of the Pacific Northwest. The hotel is within walking distance of Pike Street Market (5 blocks), the Seattle Art Museum (4 blocks), and Pioneer Square (8 blocks). Hotel parking is available but expensive. The hotel is in walking distance from SeaTac light rail – Westlake Station & Tunnel Station Bay A – about 2 blocks. Within driving distance are the Space Needle, Snoqualmie Falls, several wineries, the Boeing Museum of Flight, and the Pacific Science Center.

The conference theme, Sociologists as Claimsmakers: Turning Theory into Action is all-encompassing. It provides opportunities to examine the development of sociology from its early roots in Europe when founder, Auguste Comte, was claiming that we were a special field of Sociology and that we needed to develop our own laws and theories about social life, to those such as C. Wright Mills, who claimed that the discipline should be used to address social ills of the world. These claims are still debated in Sociology.

The 2011 conference program will include the usual array of sessions devoted to family and lifestyles, criminology, gender issues, environmental sociology, methods and statistics, social psychology, religion, and health issues, author meets commentator, how to get federal funding, and video sessions, to mention a few. Exciting invited sessions are also taking shape in the form of workshops that focus on rural sociology and identity and self. Panel discussions will focus on book authors and journal editors discussing how to get published. Reaching back into the past, there will be a panel, led by Jim Short, 1967 PSA President, past ASA President and editor of the American Sociological Review. This panel will assess the development of criminology and deviance over time. Kai Erikson will also lead a panel on the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. The Student Committee is planning an orientation for students who may be attending the conference for the first time, or just want more information about conferences. There is a session that will be a computer simulation of social problems on the international level such as mass migrations, political corruption and climate change, and a debate about online teaching (co-sponsored by the PSA and ASA).

This Call for Papers invites you to be part of the program. Share your ideas and research with other sociologists. Reconnect with students, mentors, and peers. Browse the Call for Papers, find a session of interest, and contact the organizer if you have questions. If no session matches your interests, contact Program Chair, Lucy Dwight (lucy.dwight@ucdenver.edu).

Make your submissions online. Go to the web site (pacificsoc.org) for the form and procedure. All abstract or paper submissions are due to organizers by Friday, October 15, 2011.

Hop onto the “yellow brick road” next March and head to Seattle, the Emerald City. Let’s see what magic we can create. Join us for a transitional celebration as Dean Dorn, who has been the PSA Executive Director (ED) for over 17 years, welcomes our new ED, Chuck Hohm, who has served as PSA President and Editor of Sociological Perspectives. Please support the PSA by booking at the conference hotel, the Sheraton Seattle. This will assure that we meet our room contract and will help keep the conference costs low, since thousands of dollars in meeting room rentals will not have to be paid to the Sheraton. To make a reservation at the low conference rate, for Seattle, of $149 plus tax, for a single or double, call 888.627.7058 or book online at TINYURL.COM/PSA-SHERATON-SEATTLE. To get this group rate, all reservations must be made by February 16, 2011.

SEE YOU IN THE EMERALD CITY!

Sharon K. Araj, University of Colorado Denver
President, Pacific Sociological Association

DEAR COLLEAGUES –

I write to inform you that I am honored and humbled to be asked to be your next Executive Director. As I said in my application letter to Council, no one can possibly follow in Dean's steps. I doubt that there has ever been a more talented, committed, caring and effective Executive Director of any regional sociological association in the country. The PSA was in deep trouble when Dean Dorn took over the reins 17 years ago; today it is a vibrant, thriving and exciting organization. I will do my utmost to be the best Executive Director I can be. The bad news is that the PSA will be losing Dean as its Executive Director. The good news is that he will continue to serve as treasurer, that he will chair the Endowment Committee, that he will continue to take care of the PSA website, and that he will "teach me the ropes" about running the PSA.

I would like to say a few words about the two sociology departments that will be involved with my tenure as your next Executive Director. For the last six years I have been involved with CSU Dominguez Hills as a Dean and Professor of Sociology. In December 2009 I retired and am now a Professor Emeritus of Sociology at CSUDH. The California State University System has a Faculty Early Retirement Program (FERP) which gives retiring faculty the option of teaching half time for up to five years. I will start my FERP in September 2010 and was scheduled to teach some on-line courses for CSUDH from my residence in San Diego County. When I was selected as the new Executive Director, Council agreed to pay CSUDH funds to cover the cost of having someone else teach my courses. In lieu of teaching, I will be Executive Director of the PSA and will do this from my "old" sociology department of 31 years at San Diego State. The department is providing office space, telephone/internet service, etc.

I look forward to working with all of you. Please feel free to contact me via phone, email or snail mail with any ideas or concerns that you might have regarding the PSA.

SINCERELY,

Chuck Hohm, Executive Director
Pacific Sociological Association

DEAR COLLEAGUES –

earlier this summer Dean Dorn and I discussed taking our newsletter, The Pacific Sociologist, online. It is very expensive (and getting more expensive each year) to print it out and send it through the US Postal Service. We are currently spending $7,000 to $8,000 a year to put out three issues.

I checked with ASA regarding the recent move to take Footnotes online. I spoke with Johanna Olexy, the Footnotes Managing Editor, and they are very happy with the person who is in charge of the layout and managing the website for Footnotes: Ellen Errico who has her own company, E-Squared Designs. I looked at her website and communicated with her via email. Dean and I both thought we should let Ellen Errico take the Pacific Sociologist online. For those of you may not have seen the online version of Footnotes, I encourage you to take a look.

Johanna Olexy pointed out to me that the way Footnotes is set up, one can go to the upper right hand corner of the home page and click the PDF button that allows one to print the whole issue with one click. Also, Johanna indicated that the ASA sends hardcopies of Footnotes to those who request it, which are about 500. That is less than 4% of the ASA membership.

In July, I emailed the PSA Council membership, informed them of the above, and asked them whether the PSA should take the Pacific Sociologist online. There are 15 members on the committee and of the 13 members who voted, all indicated that we should move the newsletter online.

Also, we have decided to have Ellen Errico, who does Footnotes, do the work of making the Pacific Sociologist an online newsletter. Like Footnotes, one will be able to click the PDF button on the upper right hand corner of the home page to print out the entire newsletter. If a member does not have the capability to print off the newsletter, we can print out a copy here at SDSU and mail it to him/her via snail mail.

In sum, this paper issue of our newsletter is the last one that will be sent out. The January issue will be online. The great news is that putting the Pacific Sociologist online will cost us only $330 to $550 per issue which represents a huge savings over what we are currently paying to have it printed & mailed.

Hotel Information for 2011 Meeting: Seattle Sheraton

The 2011 Annual Meeting will take place at Sheraton Seattle Hotel, 1400 Sixth Avenue on March 10-13. The hotel is conveniently located in the heart of downtown Seattle. For example, within easy walking distance are Pike Street Market (five blocks) light rail from SeaTac airport (Westlake Station & Tunnel Station Bay A) two blocks, the Seattle Art Museum (four blocks) and Pioneer Square (8 blocks).

Support the PSA by booking at the Sheraton. This will assure that your association meets its sleeping room contract and will keep convention costs low, since thousands of dollars in meeting room rental will not have to be paid to the Sheraton. Not meeting our "room block" would have serious financial consequences and would most likely increase the cost of registration at future meetings.

The 2011 discounted Convention Rate is $149 single or double, plus tax. To make a reservation, call 888.627.7058. Please ask for the PSA convention rate. Or book online at TINYURL.COM/PSA-SHERATON-SEATTLE

All reservations must be made by Wednesday, February 16, 2011 to guarantee the PSA rate. However please note that the discounted room block could easily sell out before the February 16 deadline. The hotel may still have rooms after this date, but at a higher rate.

HOTEL PARKING

Hotel parking is available, but at a reasonably high cost. Call the Sheraton for the most up-to-date parking fee and information. Currently it is valet-only at $35 per day with in and out privileges. Nearby garages will be cheaper.

AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION

The cheapest and in some cases fastest way to reach the hotel from SeaTac Airport is by taking the light rail to Westlake Station & Tunnel Station Bay A and walking two blocks to the Sheraton.

Steps You Must Follow for Submission to Session Organizers

All submissions must be made online at PACIFICSOC.ORG

You are encouraged to submit a proposal, idea, outline, abstract, or completed paper to be considered for inclusion in the 2011 Annual Meeting at the Sheraton Hotel, downtown Seattle, March 10-13, 2011. Completed papers and extended abstracts may be given more consideration for acceptance than an outline or brief abstract (two or three paragraphs for example).

Please follow the procedures below.

- 1) Look through the Call for Papers.
- 2) Select the best session for your submission and submit your completed paper, extended abstract (a two to three page summary of your intended presentation), idea, proposal, or brief abstract to the session organizer listed. All submissions must be sent online.
- 3) Fill out the form on PACIFICSOC.ORG and upload your submission. If your submission is successful, you will immediately receive a confirmation. This confirmation indicates only that your submission was sent to the session organizer successfully; it does not mean the session organizer has accepted your submission. If you need to contact the organizer, you may do so by email addresses listed in the Call for Papers.
- 4) If you cannot find a session that fits your proposal, send it to the Program Chair, Lucy Dwight (LUCY.DWIGHT@UCDENVER.EDU) who may be able to find a place for it in the program before it is finalized or submit it online under the topic "Submissions that Don't Fit Any Session Listed."
- 5) Do not submit the same work to more than ONE session organizer at the same time.
- 6) You can submit more than one proposed presentation, but each submission must be submitted to no more than ONE organizer at a time. If you submit the same proposal to more than one organizer, then both may accept and the Program Chair will eliminate you without notice from one of the sessions. This is unfair to the session organizer and to others, as the session organizer may be counting on your proposal for his or her session and may have rejected another proposal only to find out later that your proposal has been dropped from the session because you submitted it to two organizers at the same time and it ended up in two separate sessions.
- 7) Special Note to Undergraduate & Graduate Students. The PSA welcomes and encourages participation in our program by undergraduate and graduate students. To best accommodate undergraduate participation, the Program Committee has organized two types of sessions: Undergraduate Roundtable Open Topic Sessions and Undergraduate Poster Sessions. Undergraduate students can submit proposals to only these two types of sessions. Graduate students can submit their work to any listed session in the call for papers, to the Graduate Student Roundtable Session or to the Graduate Student Paper Open Topics Session.
- 8) If your submission is NOT accepted, the session organizer will inform you. If your paper is not accepted, you can then send it to another session organizer or to the Program Chair, Lucy Dwight (LUCY.DWIGHT@UCDENVER.EDU) who may be able to find a place for your presentation in the annual program.

Special Note to Undergraduate & Graduate Students

The PSA welcomes and encourages participation in our program by undergraduate and graduate students. Except for California and possibly Hawaii, there are no state sociological associations in the Pacific region available for student socialization and participation in the discipline. One aspect of the PSA mission is to mentor the next generation of sociologists. To best accommodate undergraduate participation, the Program Committee has organized two types of sessions: Undergraduate Roundtable Open Topic Sessions and Undergraduate Poster Sessions. In the Public Call for Papers, these are the only two sessions open to undergraduate students. Graduate students can submit their work to any session in the Call for Papers.

Volunteer for Committee Service

Committees are vital to the proper functioning of the Association. Each year there are vacancies on the various committees that must be filled. Each year the Committee on Committees is looking for interested and committed members who can be recommended to the President and the Council for possible appointment.

Committee Membership must represent the Southern, Central, and Northern sections of the western region. Usually there is one opening for each region on each appointed committee. Those responsible for committee appointments are always glad to know of willing volunteers. Student members are now eligible to serve on all appointed committees with the exception of the Awards Committee.

The PSA has 18 committees that members can volunteer to serve on: endowment, membership, audit, contract monitoring, awards, status of women, status of ethnic minorities, status of gays, lesbians, bisexual and transgendered persons, teaching, freedom of research and teaching, civil liberties and civil rights, social conscience, student affairs, community colleges, and sociological practice. Members are appointed by the Council and the President based on recommendation from the Committee on Committees. Self-nominations are acceptable. Serving on a Committee is an effective way to network with professional colleagues. If you are interested, please contact the Secretary, Virginia Mulle (ginnymulle@yahoo.com), and indicate which committee or committees you would like to serve on. A list of committees and a description of what they do is available at PACIFICSOC.ORG under "committees."

To serve on a committee, you must be a member in good standing.

The Endowment Committee Announces 50 $125 Travel Grant Awards For Students Listed In The Program and Attending the Annual Meeting

With the approval of Council, the Endowment Committee will offer 50 $125 travel grants available to help pay expenses for graduate and undergraduate students who are giving a presentation at the annual meeting in Seattle.

The travel grant awards will be open only to undergraduate and graduate students who are not employed full-time in an academic or non-academic institution. Students who are eligible must also be listed as a presenter or co-presenter in a conference session in the Preliminary Program for Seattle. The Preliminary Program will be published in the January 2011 newsletter. Eligible students must also be members in 2011 and must have paid pre-registration fees for the conference. Membership on a committee alone does not qualify.

Procedures for Application for a Travel Grant

Students who meet the eligibility requirements above, need to send via email their name and email address to Endowment Committee member: Deidre Tyler (DEIDRE.TYLER@SLCC.EDU). The deadline for submission is February 15, 2011. A random-numbers table will be used to assign a number to all eligible applicants. A random drawing will determine the recipients of the travel awards. Recipients will receive an Email confirming they have won an award no later than March 1, 2011. All recipients must pick up their $125 travel grant at the PSA registration table. Identification will be required.

Identity Theory Workshop at 2011 Meeting

organizers and presenters: Jan E. Stets and Peter J. Burke, Department of Sociology, University of California, Riverside

Workshop participants will have the opportunity to work through the basic ideas of identity theory including the verification process, the hierarchical control system, multiple identities, and identity change. We also will cover the basics of the measurement of meaning for person, role, and group identity standards and reflected appraisals, the measurement of identity discrepancies, the measurement of outcomes such as emotion and self-esteem, and the measurement of identity salience, commitment, and prominence. Additionally, we will provide some thoughts and suggestions for statistical models and procedures to test hypotheses about verification and maintenance with its emotional and behavioral consequences as well as identity change. Finally, we will discuss avenues for future research where researchers can be making a contribution to extend the theory. Cost: $10 (to offset costs & materials). Time: 3 hours.

Suggestions for Giving a First-Rate Presentation

NOTE: this is reprinted from the Newsletter of the Midwest Sociological Association and was written by Barbara Keating, Minnesota State – Mankato; it has been slightly edited. We continue to reprint it because it offers excellent advice for everyone on the program.

I make the following suggestions to new and experienced presenters.

- 1 Make sure the PSA knows of your A/V needs. Meeting rooms have data projectors & screens. The PSA does not provide laptops. If you need other equipment do not assume it will be available or that it can be ordered at the last minute – it can't and won't. You must order it well in advance.
- 2 Get your completed paper to the discussant at least a month before the meetings. A good review can be tremendously helpful for revising the paper for publication. But it takes time and thought. Every year, however, some discussants do not get papers until they arrive at the meetings. The discussants are doing you a favor. Help them to help you by giving them the time they need.
- 3 After you have finished your formal written paper, edit it for a presentation version. Remember, you may have only 12-15 minutes to present if there are four other presenters. Discuss only what is important. For a traditional research paper, for example, focus on the findings. Introduce the topic succinctly, summarize the literature briefly, mention the methods in passing and spend most of your time discussing the findings and their implications.

- 4 Do not read your paper to the audience. Talk about it. The well-crafted written formal sentence may be a better visual than audio experience. Remember, you audience is listening, not reading.
- 5 Arrive at the session early enough to set up any av equipment you are using. This will also allow you to meet the other panelists. The organizer and/or presider will brief you on organization, order and time limits.
- 6 Adhere to time limits. Four to five paper presentations, discussant comments, and audience participation do not allow much flexibility in one session. Presiders may enforce appropriate social sanctions on presenters who monopolize time.
- 7 If you bring copies of your paper for distribution, you may reduce the weight by printing single space on both sides of each page. Many presenters must bring copies of the statistical tables or model figures, perhaps with an abstract.

call for nominations for awards from previous page

Nominations for the award must be submitted via email (a copy of the paper, including an abstract, accompanied by a least one letter of support). Hardcopies will not be accepted. The deadline for nominations is February 1, 2011.
