PRELIMINARY PROGRAM: THE 69TH ANNUAL PACIFIC SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION MEETING April 16-19 at the Cathedral Hill Hotel in San Francisco THE VALUE OF SOCIOLOGY

The preliminary program for the 1998 PSA Meeting is now complete and is outlined herein for your perusal. Make your plans now to attend the PSA's 69th Annual Meeting scheduled for April 16-19 at the Cathedral Hill Hotel in downtown San Francisco.

The theme of the meeting is "The Value of Sociology." There is a diverse and extensive array of sessions – totaling 186 – that reflect this theme and other interests relevant to the PSA's expanding and vibrant membership.

Included among the scheduled sessions are a variety of featured presidential sessions. These include three plenary sessions: one addressing sociological contributions to understanding economic processes and institutions, featuring Michael Buroway, Neil Fligstein, Mark Granovetter, Charles Perrow, and Walter Powell; a second focusing on the contributions of sociology to understanding gender, featuring Paula England as the presenter and Christine Williams and Scott Coltrane as the discussants; and the third featuring the winners of the 1997 ASA Distinguished Book Award – Melvin Oliver and Thomas Shapiro – who will discuss their work on "black wealth/white wealth." Also included in the program are four featured presidential panels: one on "New Perspectives on the Self;" a second focusing on "What we Don't Know in the Study of Social Movements;" a third on "Critical Issues in Higher Education;" and the fourth on "Immigration in California." And last but not least, there are two featured sessions in which authors of recent major books – Rodney Stark and Alan Wolfe – will meet their critics.

When these featured sessions are combined with the other sessions, the 1998 PSA meeting promises to be among the most intellectually engaging and relevant PSA meetings to date. With 186 sessions, it will also be among the largest. In order to accommodate all of these sessions, they will begin on Thursday, April 16, at 12:00 noon, and continue until Sunday, April 19, at 1:00 pm. Most sessions will run for one hour and forty-five minutes, beginning at 8:00 am and running continuously into the evening hours. There will also be publishers' displays, a welcome reception, a presidential reception, a student reception, and business and committee meetings among other events.

Please join us and your friends and colleagues in San Francisco, April 16-19, for what promises to be an engaging, informative, and lively annual meeting. We look forward to seeing you!

FROM THE EDITORS: A CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

As this issue of The Pacific Sociologist is devoted to the presentation of the preliminary program, we must suspend our ongoing discussion of issues of professional concern to the membership of the Pacific Sociological Association. We will resume this discussion in the May issue.

In May, we will again feature "Professional Concerns: Objectivity and/or Activism." In addition, we will revisit the issue of "Threats to Tenure." And perhaps we will initiate a discussion, given the theme of our April 1998 meetings, of "The Value of Sociology." If you would like to participate in the discussion of these issues, respond to a previously published contribution, or initiate a discussion of another "Professional Concern," please let us know. Contributions should be about 1000 words, and must be received no later than May 10, 1998 in order to appear in the next issue of The Pacific Sociologist.

As always, other contributions and suggestions are welcome. If you have news of general interest to the profession, a book review, a curricular or pedagogical innovation, or anything else that seems appropriate for these pages, please contact us.

Please send contributions and other suggestions (electronically, if at all possible) to:

1998 MEMBERSHIP DUES AND 1998 ANNUAL MEETING REGISTRATION FEE

MEMBERSHIP DUES FOR 1998

If you have not as yet paid either 1998 membership dues or 1998 preregistration fees for the annual meeting, just clip or xerox this page and return it with the appropriate amount. Dues renewal notices were sent to all 1997 members in November. So check to make certain you have not already paid the appropriate fees for 1998 before returning this form.

Membership continues to be a bargain among professional associations: $20 regular and $10 student and/or low income of $15,000 or below. Membership dues and registration fees support the functions of the PSA: the PSA Journal, Sociological Perspectives, edited by Charles Hohm and published four times per year, the PSA Newsletter, The Pacific Sociologist, edited by the Sociology Department at Boise State University and published three times per year, and the Annual Meeting. Dues are payable yearly starting January 1.

Please pay promptly so that you will continue to receive the newsletter and the journal without interruption or delay!

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM: SAN FRANCISCO, APRIL 16-19, 1998

Important Notice to All Participants Who Are Listed in the Preliminary Program and to All Those Who Will be Attending the Seattle Meeting: Payment of Registration Fees and Membership Dues

Several points about meeting preregistration, program participation, and membership are discussed below. These items need your attention.

1. Preregistration and Membership Dues

All program participants must preregister for the Annual Meeting before April 1, 1998 in order to have their names listed in the final program. A form is included in this newsletter. If you have not already paid preregistration fees, please return the form with your payment. If you were a member in 1997, you should already have received a dues and preregistration form for the Annual Meeting.

There are four clarifications to the preregistration fee and membership dues requirements for those who are listed on the program in Seattle:

- In cases of multiple-authored papers, co-authors who are NOT attending the meeting do not have to pay preregistration fees or membership dues. However, the person responsible for presenting the paper in March, must preregister and must also pay membership dues. In other words, at least one co-author must preregister and pay membership dues or the entire paper and all co-authors will be dropped from the program.
- If you are a sociologist from the western region, you must pay both 1998 membership dues and 1998 preregistration fees.
- If you are a sociologist but NOT from the western region, you MUST pay preregistration fees, but you do not have to pay 1998 membership dues.
- If you are NOT a sociologist, you must pay 1998 preregistration fees, but you do NOT have to pay 1998 membership dues.

2. Program Participation

Being on the program means being listed in any position—presider, moderator, panelist, critic, roundtable presenter, roundtable presider/discussant, seminar leader/presenter, discussant, session organizer, presenter, workshop leader, speaker, etc. In short, any place your name appears is counted as a participation.

3. Attendance at the Meeting

If you are attending the meeting but are not on the program, you are expected to pay either preregistration fees or registration fees at the door. Preregistration fees are $25 for faculty and/or over $15,000 income per year and $17.50 for students and/or under $15,000 income per year. Registration fees at the door will be $35 for faculty and/or over $15,000 income per year and $25 for students and/or under $15,000 annual income.

If you have questions about your status and these required dues and fees and/or you would like information about how to pay them, please contact the Secretary/Treasurer's Office at 916-278-5254; fax: 916-278-6281; or e-mail: psa@csus.edu

NOTICE: INFORM US OF ERRORS AND CANCELLATIONS

Since this is only the preliminary program, you may notice errors in spelling, institutional affiliation, double-entries, etc. If you have noticed such an error anywhere within the program, please inform the Secretary/Treasurer immediately so it can be corrected on the final program.

If for some reason, you must cancel your presentation, please have the courtesy to inform the organizer of your session as well as Dean Dorn, the PSA Secretary/Treasurer, so that the final program in San Francisco will be as accurate as possible.

HOTEL INFORMATION FOR THE 1998 PSA ANNUAL MEETING, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, APRIL 16-19

The 1998 PSA Annual Meeting will take place at the Cathedral Hill Hotel, 1101 Van Ness Ave at Geary, San Francisco, CA 94109-6986. The hotel has 400 rooms and is located near the Civic Center. Union Square is seven blocks away, Polk Street in one block away, a cable car stop is about four blocks north, and there are many interesting and reasonable ethnic restaurants within walking distance of the Hotel. A BART station is available at the Civic Center, about six blocks south of the Hotel.

The PSA Convention Rate for 1998 is $99 single and $109 double, plus tax. To make a reservation call 1-800-622-0855 or the hotel directly at 415-776-8200. Please ask for the PSA convention rate. ALL RESERVATIONS MUST BE MADE BY MARCH 15, 1998 to guarantee the PSA rate.

Hotel Parking for registered guests will be at the prevailing rate of $13.00 for a 24 hour period, with in and out privileges. Other persons attending the conference but not staying overnight at the hotel, must pay the regular rate of $6.50. The Cathedral Hill Hotel is about 20-25 minutes from the San Francisco Airport. There are countless ways to get to and from the airport. The best airport shuttle to the hotel is the WHARF AIRPORTER which runs every 30 minutes between 7 am and 10 pm. The Cathedral Hill Hotel is the second stop after leaving the airport. The WHARF AIRPORTER number is 1-800-434-1222. You can catch the WHARF AIRPORTER at the lower level, blue column, outside the baggage claim area. Fare is $18 round trip, $10 one-way, subject to change. For other destinations and transportation options, call SFO Transportation at 1-800-SFO-2008. A cab ride from the airport to the hotel costs about $21-$30, but up to four can share a ride.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PARTICIPANTS*

If you were a discussant, how would you like to get the papers for review the night before the session? As an audience member, how do you like it when presenters read their papers word for word while droning on and on through fifty years of literature review? I make the following suggestions to new and experienced presenters.

1. Get your completed paper to the discussant at least a month before the meetings. A good review can be tremendously helpful for revising the paper for publication. But it takes time and thought. Every year, however, some discussants do not get papers until they arrive at the meetings. The discussants are doing you a favor. Help them to help you by giving them the time they need.
2. After you have finished the formal written version of your paper, edit it for a presentation version. Remember, you will normally have only 12-15 minutes to give your paper if there are four other presenters. Discuss only what is important. For a traditional research paper, for example, focus on the findings. Introduce the topic succinctly, summarize the literature briefly, mention the methods in passing and spend most of your time discussing the findings and their implications.
3. Do not read your paper to the audience. Talk about it. The well-crafted written formal sentence may be a better visual than audio experience. Remember, your audience is listening, not reading.
4. Arrive at your session ten minutes early. The presider will brief you on organization, order, and time limits.
5. Adhere to time limits. Four to five paper presentations, discussant comments, and audience participation do not allow much flexibility in one session. Presiders may enforce appropriate social sanctions on presenters who monopolize time.
6. If you bring copies of your paper for distribution, you may reduce the weight by printing single space on both sides of each page. Many presenters must bring copies of the statistical tables or model figures, perhaps with an abstract. *[Note: This is reprinted from the Newsletter of the Midwest Sociological Association and was written by the Editor, Barbara Keating, Mankato State University. It has been slightly edited for the PSA.]

THE CITY BY THE BAY: SOME SAN FRANCISCO HIGHLIGHTS

You may have been to San Francisco many times in the past, but there are a number of sites and special places that even many locals don't know about. It would be a waste of space to talk too much about the many great attractions of Golden Gate Park – the wonderful Academy of Sciences and Aquarium, the De Young Museum (which will soon be demolished because of its structural instability), the Japanese teagarden, Stowe Lake and the many other interesting corners of the park. The same goes for the downtown and Embarcadero shopping districts. But there are bits and pieces of the city that don't get a lot of press, places just as interesting and inviting: the old penny arcade at the Cliff House, out near Ocean Beach; the absolutely beautiful drive through the newly-opened Presidio, and the museum there; the Palace of the Legion of Honor, past the presidio, out in Lincoln Park overlooking the Pacific from the outside of the Golden Gate; the more interesting and intriguing shopping and restaurant districts in the Castro/Market area (which are the most active part of the city on weekend nights), and, of course, the Yerba Buena Center for the Arts and the surrounding park (and the path through the waterfall dedicated to the memory of Martin Luther King, jr.), across from the new Museum of Modern Art. There's also the Hunters Point naval station, which was recently closed and has now become a sort of artists' colony, with painters and sculptors of all media renting out dozens of the old quonset huts and warehouses that used to house munitions and military supplies. There are exciting ethnic neighborhoods – take a walk through the Mission on any morning, or Friday and Saturday nights during festival season. There are the dance clubs – some of which, like 1015 Folsom, are larger than anything in New York.

Just outside the city are plenty of other great afternoon trips. The Marin Headlands are one of the few unspoiled bits of oceanfront space anywhere around San Francisco, and the old military bunkers there are a great vantage point. There is also a youth hostel on the beach, a nice visitor's center, and the marine mammal rescue station, which allows visitors to walk through and learn about the seals, sea lions, otters and other animals that are rescued, nursed back to health and hopefully returned by the vets and volunteers there. BART will take you to within a short walk of the UC Berkeley campus (with its Corbusier-lookalike University Art Museum) and the Oakland Museum, which has one of the best collections of local contemporary art on the West Coast.

We look forward to seeing you at this year's PSA meeting in San Francisco. Even if you've been to the city several times in the past, this visit will be exciting and interesting. If you haven't visited the Bay Area in the past, it will be an especially good trip for you; the San Francisco bay area is, without question, one of the most vibrant parts of the country in terms of art, cuisine and culture.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FROM THE PSA

CALL FOR SESSIONS, 1999 PSA MEETING, APRIL 15-18, PORTLAND, OREGON

Theme: Social Difference and Social Connection

From Cecilia Ridgeway, Stanford University, PSA President, 1998-99.

Since its inception, sociology has focused on two foundational problems: how does social order develop and why is social inequality so often a part of it? Related to these central concerns of our discipline is an even more basic set of questions. How and why are groups of people socially constructed (by themselves and/or others) as different from one another in ways that carry social significance in their shared society? How is this social organization of difference related to the nature of the ties between people in these groups? How is it related to the construction and maintenance of social inequality? How is it related to formation of the social system itself?

These old and fundamental sociological questions have a new urgency for those of us in the Pacific region. Our always heterogeneous population is becoming dramatically more diverse, setting loose a complex blend of social innovation, competing interests, disturbing backlash, and new hope. Old social connections are breaking down as new ones grow up. What constitutes the significant social differences among us is being reshaped and the implications of traditional differences are shifting. We are witnessing before us an intense display of fundamental social processes of social organization and inequality playing out through difference and social connection.

Now is the time to improve our sociological knowledge of these processes. Our ability to practically intervene in the social processes we see around us as well as to further our discipline is dependent on increasing our understanding of social difference, social connection, and the relationship between them. In recent years, sociologists have indeed paid closer attention to the problem of social difference. Now we need to look more closely as well at the other side of the coin to understand how difference itself is linked to the formation and nature of social connections. Come to Portland in 1999 and help us do this.

Nominate yourself or suggest that your colleagues organize a session. Send your nominations and suggestions for sessions by April 20, 1998 to the Program Chair Robert Nash Parker, Department of Sociology, University of California, Riverside, CA 92521; 909-787-4604; fax: 909-787-7394; email: robnp@aol.com.

Call for Nominations for Elected Positions and Committees

The 1997-98 PSA Nominations Committee requests nominations for the following positions that will have vacancies on the Fall 1998 ballot: President (2000-2001); Vice President (2000-2001); the Committee on Committees (1999-2002) will have three vacancies, one each from the Northern, Southern, and Central regions; the Publications Committee (1999-2002) will have one vacancy from the Central region; the Nominations Committee (1999-2002) will have one vacancy from the Southern region; and PSA Council (1999-2001) will have three vacancies, one each from the Southern, Central, and Northern regions.

Members will elect candidates for these positions on the fall 1998 ballot. Please send names and addresses of potential candidates to the Chair of the Nominations Committee, Rodolfo Alvarez, Department of Sociology, UCLA, 1455 Hilgard Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90095-1551. Self nominations are welcome! The deadline for submission of names is March 1, 1998. The other members of the nominations committee are Valerie Jenness (Washington State), Ann Baker Cottrell (San Diego State), and Rachel Khan-Hut (San Francisco State).

VOLUNTEER TO SERVE ON A PSA COMMITTEE

PSA Committees are vital to the proper functioning of the Association. Each year there are vacancies on the various committees that must be filled. Each year the Committee on Committees is looking for interested and committed members who can be recommended to the President and the Council for possible appointment.

Committee Membership must represent the Southern, Central, and Northern sections of the PSA western region. Usually there is one opening for each region on each appointed committee. Those responsible for committee appointments are always glad to know of willing volunteers. Student members are now eligible to serve on all appointed committees with the exception of the Awards Committee.

The PSA has 15 committees that members can volunteer to serve on: endowment committee, membership, audit, contract monitoring, awards, status of women, status of ethnic minorities, status of gays, lesbians, and bisexuals, teaching, freedom of research and teaching, civil liberties and civil rights, social conscience/action, student affairs, and sociological practice. Members are appointed by the PSA Council and the President based on recommendation from the Committee on Committees. Self-nominations are acceptable. Serving on a PSA Committee is an effective way to network with professional colleagues. If you are interested, please indicate below. Even if you have volunteered before and not been selected, please fill out and clip the form below.

To serve on a PSA Committee, you must be a member of the PSA in good standing.

This year and in the future, the Committee on Committees will be making its nominations for committees in the fall. So please send your requests as soon as possible – no later than October 15, 1997.

OTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS

CALL FOR PAPERS

Manuscripts are being solicited for a new international journal, The Contemporary Justice Review. Forthcoming from Gordon and Breach Publishers, the journal will be truly interdisciplinary in nature focusing on all aspects of criminal, social, and restorative justice from the perspectives of sociology, history, religion, anthropology, law, and human technology.

The journal will serve as a forum to bring together the voices of scholars, practitioners and activists of justice from around the globe who seek to explore new models and demonstration projects of justice that have applicability to social systems from the local to the international level.

The new journal will seek to redefine the current boundaries of criminology and criminal justice by exploring justice in the community, the workplace, school, and the family across the world.

The editors will give special attention to cutting-edge articles on peacemaking criminology, restorative justice theory and practice, alternative responses to harm (e.g., prison abolition), community empowerment and crime prevention, nation-state/corporate violence and structural alternatives, conflict resolution and peaceful methods of problem-solving, and environmental justice.

Theoretical perspectives that call for needs-based solutions to the exercise of power and social arrangements based in violence, as opposed to those that are deserts- and rights-based, are also highly sought.

The Contemporary Justice Review will reflect a variety of formats, publishing not only scholarly articles but well-thought out personal essays, exchanges among scholars and activists, interviews with those living lives of restorative justice, narrative histories on crime and punishment, roundtable discussions and exchanges, movie reviews that examine a filmmaker's contribution to understanding violence and justice, and book reviews that emphasize a work's contribution to justice studies.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS: Manuscripts should be 25 typed, double-spaced pages with text presented on one side of paper. Send for copies of the manuscript (three of which must be prepared for blind review) to: Dennis Sullivan, Institute for Economic and Restorative Justice, P.O. Box 262, Voorheesville, New York 12186, USA Tel: 518-765-2468; e-mail: gezellig@global2000.net

Manuscript documentation should follow the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association and submissions should be accompanied by a 150-word abstract and an e-mail address.

PAPERS SOUGHT FOR RESEARCH ANNUAL RESEARCH IN THE SOCIOLOGY OF HEALTH CARE

Papers are being sought for volume 16 of Research in The Sociology of Health Care published by JAI Press. The major theme for this volume is Quality, Health Care Institutions and Patients. Within this theme, papers dealing with macro-level system issues involving the growth of HMOs, restrictions placed on health care practitioners, and the need for hospitals and other health care organizations to change to meet the changing conditions in health care provision including financing would be welcome. Also, papers dealing with patients in their roles as consumers of care are welcome. This includes papers on responses to care and problems with care delivery, concerns about quality and limitations on amount of care provided, impact of changing diseases and treatment options on care of patients and how consumers organize their own health behaviors, and the influence of gender, race and class. The volume will contain 10-14 papers, generally between 20 and 40 pages in length. Send completed manuscripts or abstracts and outlines for an initial indication of interest in the topic by February 15, 1998 to: Jennie Jacobs Kronenfeld, School of Health Administration and policy, Box 874506, Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ 85287-4506 (Fax 602-9365-7099 or phone 602-965-7099; E-mail, JENNIE.KRONENFELD@asu.edu).

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

You are invited to participate in the 61st Annual Meeting of the Rural Sociological Society at the Hilton Hotel in Portland, Oregon on August 6-9, 1998. We encourage presentations related to the theme of the meetings, but as our tradition, we will try to accommodate all submissions of papers, discussion groups and poster presentations that reflect the broad interests of rural social sciences. Research and interest groups have indicated that they plan to organize several pre-meeting sessions related to the theme of the meeting and taking advantage of the Northwest venue. The meeting theme, "Beyond Politics: Rethinking the Future of Democracy," promises to provide the ideal setting for rethinking the future of democracy and the potential for greater participation ... thereby facilitating the collective construction of more creative, more prosperous and more meaningful lives for all rural people. Send paper abstracts or session proposals by February 1, 1998 to: JoAnn Jaffe, 1998 RSS Program Chair, Department of Sociology/Social Studies, University of Regina, Regina, SK, S4S 0A2, Canada. 306-585-4198 (O); 306-652-6309 (H); 306-585-4815 (fax); e-mail: JoAnn.Jaffe@uregina.ca
